Call to mind the personal and pecuniary sacrifices of Democrats in raising troops, in fornishing means for the war, in sustaining your familes at home, in sending sanitary supplier to you in the field, and in volunteering to fill your ranks. They still continue to sustain you and provide for your families at home. They are with you and for you in every emer-

You are about to express by the hallet your opinions as to the policy which should govern in our present national difficulties. You, with peace and a minon of air the Statey are prefer-able to the policy now announced of unend-ing war tor negro equality.

This was not the policy under which the veterans enlisted. No; that policy was to put down the rebellion and restore the Union an-der the Censtitution. But the President has changed, Congress has changed, the Republican leaders have changed. They are now ni tra abolitionists. But many conservative Republicans will vote with ns for a restoration of the old order of things.

If you think they are right, unite with these conservative men and with as for this Let us have a change of administrarovided it be necessary, solely for the Union and the restoration of peace, then vote for a change. The present administration can only unite the South, divide public sentiment at the North, prolong the war indefinitely, as follows: and end finally in dissolution. Changed to a Democratic administration, and you may hope to see a restored Union, an early return to peace, and that blassed re union with friends a: home, who are watch-

Such is the record of the young statesman and patriot whom the Republicans stigmatize as an unconditional peace man. Mr. Pendleton is indeed a peace man; hnt he is a Constitutional Union peace man. He is for peace at the earliest practicable moment on the basis of the Union and the Constitution. This is the head and front of his offending.

Those who pretend to fear that with the enccess of McClellan the country will be dregged into a dishonorehle peace should refresh themselves by reading his Harrison's Landing letter to the President of the United Stetce. We reproduce it here:

If secession is successful, other dis lutions are clearly to be seen in the fuence et neither military disaster, political faction or foreign war, shake your settled purpose to nforce the equal operation of the laws of the United States upon the people of every State has twice, yes, thrice, saved the capital. Call The time has come when the Government must determine upon a civil and in livery policy covering the whole ground of our national trouble. The responsibility of determining, declaring, and supporting such civil and military policy, and of directing the whole course of national affairs in regard to the rebellion must now be assumed and an account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the rebellion must now be assumed and account of the results of now to save the nation, and make his calling mit the high ability and the spotless character to the rebellion, must now he assumed and energised by you, or our cause will be lost. T. nstitution gives you power sufficient even

This rebeilion has assumed the character of war; as such it should be regarded; and it should be conducted upon the highest principle. Pendleton and Mr. Vallandigham parted at the very opening of the war; and they have ples known to Christian civilization. I should not be a war looking to the subjugg never come together since. On this point wa tion of the people of any State in any event it should not be at all a war npon population but sgainst armed forces and political organizations. Neither confiscation of property, political executions of persons, territorial organization of Sates, or forcible abolition of slavery should be confirmed for a moment. resolution, as our readers will remember, is tion of S ates, or forcible abolition of slavery, should be con-emplated for n moment. In presecuting the war, all private property and nuarmed persons should be strictly protected, subject only to the necessity of military operations. All private property taken for military use should be paid or receipted for; pillsge and waste should be treated as high Vallandigbam did not. Thus they parted at crimes; all nnnecessary trespass sternly pro hibited; and off-asive demeanor by the mili tary toward citizens promptly rebiked.
Mintary arrests should not be tolerated, cx cept in places where active hostilities exis and oaths not required by enartmen s, consti-tntionally made, should be neither demanded nor received. Military government should be confined to the preservation of public order and the protection of political rights. Military power should not be allowed to intertere with the relations of cervitula, her by supporting or impairing the author ity of the master, except for anppressing dispr der, as in other cases. Slaves contraband na-der the act of Congress, seeking military pro-tection, should receive it. The right of the Government to appropriate permanently to its accerted, and the right of the owner to comfere with their State governments, or with their co restic institutions, or to abolish or interfere with slavery within their limits, would be an attempt to destroy this equality, and This principle might be extended, npon grentds of military necessity and security, to would, it sneceesful, subvert the Constitution all the slaves within a particular State t working manumission in such State; and in Miscouri, perhaps in Western Virginia also. and possibly even in Maryland, the expediency of such a measure is only a question of time. A system of policy thus constitutional and onservative, and pervaded by the infinences prosecuted as to enforce obedience to the obligations of the constitution, and the laws of Christianity and freedom, would receive the enpport of almost all truly loyal men, would deeply impress the rehel masses and all passed in eccordance therewith; and that they shall not be so prosecuted as to reduce to a position of inferiority any of the States, or to interfere with their State governments, or foreign untions, and it might be hambly hoped that it would commend itself to the favor of the Almighty.

Unless the principles governing the future conduct of our struggle shall he made known and approved, the effort to obtain requisite forces will be almost hopeless. A declaration of radical views, especially npon slavery, will rapidly disintegrate our present armies. The policy of the Government must be enp-ported by concentration of military power. The national forces should not be dispersed in expeditions, posts of occupation, and numerons armies, but should be mainly collected into messes, and brought to bear upon the armies of the Confederate States. Those ermles thoroughly defeated, the political tructure which they support will soon esase to exist.

In cerrying ont any system of policy which you may form, you will require a command-er-in-chief of the army; one who possesses onr confidence, understands your views, and who is competent to execute your orders by directing the military forces of the nation to the accomplishment of the objects by you proposed. I do not ask that place for myself. am willing to serve you in such position as you may assign me, and I will do so as faith-fully as ever subordinate served superior. I may be on the brink of eternity, and, as I hope for forgiveness from my Maker, I have written this letter with sincerity toward you written the letter who succertly toward you and from love of my country.

Very respectfully, your obedient servent,

G. B. McOLELL AN,

Major-General Commanding.

This was written just after the hattle of Malvern Hills left McClellan mester of his situation, after having changed his hase from the Chicksheminy to the James river. Two days af erward, on the 9th, President Lincoln visited the Generel's camp on the Peninsula, and, after consultation, on the 11th General Haileck was appointed General-in-Chief, who on the d of August ordered the evacuation of the Peninsnla. Havo we reached any nearer to Richmond now than McClellan was more than two years ago?

On Thursday last in a notice of Jesse's movements we said that a few nights previously the gnerilla hand was at McDowell's, opposite Springport, and not aware of the for the relief of the Ohio volunteers, which, proximity of our scouting party which was though it gave rise to much discussion, he resting ut Mr. Perry's, one mile from the carried through successfully. In short, he guerilla camp. We have reliable information faithfully redeemed his pledge "to vote for | that there was no such camp established; on all measures asked for to enable the govern- the evening in question, Jesse, John Marshall, and two men rode into MeDowell'a yard just which may be sanctioned by the constitution, at supper time, dismonnted, hitched their horses, and unceremoniously proceeded to eat. It would have been of little use to deny hos pitality to them, for persons of their stamp McClellan's modesty and disinterestedness tration were silent. While condemning the always take what they want if it is not freely given. After they had appeased their hunger they left very quietly, for, though they knew the Federal trops were near, they thought the night would deter their advance. The next morning Capt Brownice, of the 30th Kentneky, rode up to McDowell's and, was told that Jesse had been there the night hefore. The reason the Cart in did not reach there at the same time was he had heard that one hundred men were in camp. and, as he had but forty-eight, he did not deem it prudent, on a dark night, to attack an istrenched camp with such a disproportionate force. Our information, therefore, that the guerillas had received timely information from some rebel sympathizer to make good their retreat, as pears to have been erroneous.

It seems that the President was right after all in allowing but fifty days from the issue of bis proclamation for 500,000 men to Resolved. That the only object of the war ought to be to subjugate the armed insurrection which, for the time heing, suspends the proper relations of certain States with the Federal Government, and to re-establish the suprement of the condition of the statutes at large, issued by Little & Engrepose of the openition of the war of the expression of the statutes at large, issued by Little & Engrepose of the openition of the war of the expression of the statutes at large, issued by Little & Engrepose of the only object of the war of the Sate Department and concentration, not from any gazet to extend the patricine and for an independent of the patricine and for an independent of the patricine and the patricin

The modest maiden who thinks she has been too long passed by for others no better than she, writes to inquire if it was right that George should "go" with another girl after having "goue" with her, and doubtless experiences great satisfaction at being told that she is fortunate to get rid of one so fickle. It is noticeable that contented people whose course of true love rans smooth seldom or never figure in these columns. It is only in what they are pleased to call moments of "soul darkness" and "heart-despondency" that youthful lovers breathe forth their yearuings in utterauces like this. "Despair"-the very signature speaks unutterable woo-writes that-"a young lady has behaved very ili to me.
